

The Association for Supply Chain Management Announces 2023 Board of Directors

CHICAGO - January 5, 2023 - The Association for Supply Chain Management (ASCM) announced today its 2023 Board of Directors. Comprised of three newly appointed members and nine incumbents, this accomplished group will lead ASCM's efforts to make a difference and build a better world through supply chain.

As supply chain disruptions continue to impact individuals and companies, ensuring sustainability and resilience, addressing data and cybersecurity and improving diversity and inclusion has never been more critical.

“ASCM is committed to ensuring the highest level of service and representation for our members with Lisa Veneziano as our new chair of the board. She is the second female to chair the board for ASCM and we are honored and excited to have her leadership and experience as we head into the new year,” said ASCM CEO Abe Eshkenazi, CSCP, CPA, CAE.

“We have been fortunate enough to have the commitment of these talented and dedicated supply chain professionals who will serve as the 2023 Board of Directors and continue the long-standing tradition of providing their diverse expertise and insight to ASCM,” added Eshkenazi.
